The War in Miscouri.

Three companies of the Hannibal Home Guards, which started from here yesterday morning to relieve Col. Smith, have returned, and bring the following:

The railroad is unobstructed between Hannibal and Monroe; no bridges burned or otherwise damaged. On arriving at Mosroe, we effected a junction with Col. Smith, who was engaged entrenching himself at the Beminary building near that place. The rebels, about 1200 strong, was grouped around over the prairie, out of reach of Smith's rifles. They had two pieces of artillery, six pounders, which they soon brought to bear upon us, but the distance was so great that their balls were almost spent pefore reaching their atm. Col. Smith ordered his men to continue the work on fortifications and to watch the flash of the enemy's guns, which all did, falling into ditches till the shot passed, when all would rise and go to work again. In the meantime our gun was used with telling accuracy upon the enemy. By the aid of a spy glass several horses and their riders were distinctly seen lying dead on the prairie. The action continued until near dark, when the last shot from our gun dismounted one of the enemy's rear with the cavalry sent from Quincy on Wednesday, completely routing them and taking 75 prisoners, one gun and a large number of horses. There were from 20 to 30 rebels killed. Not a man of the Federal forces was killed and but few wounded. We left for home as soon as the battle was decided, and do not know the name.

We left for home as soon as the battle was decided, and do not know the name of the wounded.

It is said that Col. Smith is determined to shoot some of the most prominent rebel prisoners.

The energy of Gov. Wood is commendable in the extreme. When he landed at Marion, some of the men asked what they should do for provisions. His reply was, about the infantry take care of the provisions, the first thing we've got to do is to relieve Col. Smith, and then we may stop to cat—forward, march?" and he started off on a brisk trot. He declared that who ever of the rebels fell into his hands would not get off on parole.

The same house, pay little or no regard to the Sabbath, and their conversation is not at all edifying. They sent us an invitation to a two days' dance and dinner on the 5th and 6th of February. We declined. They else have their bill lards and cards in the same room in which they read the services of the church of England. Several of the officers got into rather an unpleasant of the officers to difficulty a short time since. The servant of one of them being drunk, they undertook to duck him in a tank. In his struggles they lost their hold, and he sank to the bottom. The water was 12 feet deep and they were unable to raise him again. They were raported immediately to the commanding officer who called a court martial each day and tried them, and a bill for manulaughter was found against them. They will be tried again before a general court Martial composed of the officers of several regiments, when it is likely they will lose their commissions, and be sent home to England.

The officers are all very kind and sociable, but their hearts are not in our work; therefore their friendships does not in our work; therefore their friendships does not in our work; therefore their friendships does not incore work.

Capt. Griffin lost sixty of the horses on his battery, but brought away one gun.

OUTRAGE AT RUSSELLVILLE, Kr.-We le Oursage at Russellville, Kr.—We learn, says the Louisville Democrat of yesterday, that Mr. Finley, son of the Postmuster at Russellville, on his way to the Postonice in that town, was shot at py P. S. Roberts, who is a violent Secessionist. Mr. Finley knocked the pistol away, the contents going over his head. The pistol was then taken from Roberts, As Finley walked off, he was fired at again by Roberts, the ball grazing the head of a bystander, where upon Mr. Finley turned and seized Roberts, who was in the act of firing a third shot. Finley was shot in the arm, but seized Roberts, knocked him down, and was in a fair way to give a sound thrashing, when he was taken off. This Roberts is said to be a hot-headed Secessionist, and a member of the K. G. C's. What provocation had he for this assault? Mr. Finley is said to be a most excellent citizen.

From Kansas.

Mr. Champion Vaughan passed through the city to day en route for Washington.

He was accompanied by Mr. E. Menagere, a stalwart Kansas man of the Meekrath order of architecture, and who has done service as a Government scout. Mr. Menagere is represented to be a fair specimen of the Kansas border troops now forming a part of Gen. Lyon's brigade—and judging from his appearance they must be a formidable body of men.

Mr. Vaughan reports that the Secessionists number from 15,090 to 20,000 on the Missouri and Arkansas border. Gen. Lyon has about 12,000. U. S. troops, and a big fight is anticipated. Lyon bas 2,000 Kansas boys in his command who are sworn to take dinner in New Orleans on Christmes at the expense of the municipal corporation. Beu. McCullough is receiving large renforcements. So is Gen. Lyon. The latter is pushing for Fort Smith, Ark,, which will be the basis for the great Western flank movement to the Gulf of Mexico.—Cleveland Herald.

The officers are all very kind and sociable, but their hearts are not in our work; therefore their friendship does not strengthen us much. The commanding officer of the regiment stationed here when we same was a very devoted man. His whole soul sevened to be taken up with the mission. He give such triends, especially among the carl officers.

Their houses are every small and uncomfortable. Their houses are every small and uncomfortable. Their principal food is rice and curry: the latter is made by stewing a quantity of vegetables, meat and spices together. Europeans generally become very fond of it, and it forms one of the principal dishes on their tables. The natives are obliged to keep a proper distance true their rulers, (the English.) not being permitted to come into their presence unless called. woops were substituted for those who were defeated.

The ammunition of our artillery had been expended in the contest. As the caisonic were rushing at fall speed to the rear for a new supply of ammunition, the movement was construed by Leamsters and civilians there into a retrent, and a panic among them occurred.

They ran for their horses, and without waiting to ascertain the facts, they cut the races of the wagou horses and commenced precipitate retreat. The consternation us created was communicated to the solves in the rear of the column, at the very nent when a charge of fresh cavalry Manosses Junction was made upon I was nothing more nor less than upcide. The enemy were themselves we of it.

Tersult is, in a great measure, attribube tardiness of Patterson.

Sprague's bravery during the whole enged universal admiration, and, Mr. Gasten, Paymaster of the 14th, succeeded in bringing some dever out of this chaos.

The brave Rhode Islanders were formed in the rear to be ready to oppose the advance of pursuers.

The number of killed and wounded has been greatly exaggerated. McDowell behaved with the greatest bravery; but this was unavailing to arrest a panic in the rear.

The Fire Zounves fought like devils.—
The N. Y. 71st, 14th and 27th, the Minnesota and Maine regiments were the praise in this world, and no heaven to look to hereafter.

McLean's Connial.—As may be seen, we insert this week the advertisement of McLean's Cordial, &c. It is very well known that we are not particularly favorable to patent medicines, and as a general thing, eschew the whole of them with but Ritle caremony, and with the caremony. chew the whole of them with but little caremony, and with there sentiments we declined insecting this advertisement until we knew what were the ingredients of the medicine, and how compounded. This we have learned, and believing, as we do, that the ingredients are good, and the compound judiciously made, we recommend it so a mixture worthy of public confidence.

The above is from the St. Louis Christian Advocate, edited by the renowned Rev. Dr. McAnally, which speaks volumes in favor of McLean's Cordial. We say to all, try it. So advertisement in another column.

THE MODE OF EXAMINATION THE MODE OF EXAMINATION
Pursued by Dr Wadsworth is very simple and entirely new, and by it disease of any of the internal vital organs is in a very few minutes detected with facility and certsloty without asking the patient a question or having the least previous knowledge of the case.

Dr. W. gives his undivided attention to all forms of chronic disease, treating thousands of different cases every year, a large majority of whom have tried most other methods of cure in vain. Dr W. wishes it distinctly understood that he makes no speciality of one disease, but professes to understand the whole human system, and is constantly demonstrating this knowledge by describing to those who consult him the location, nature and curability of their diseases, without any questions.

Dr. H. W. Wadsworth, Dear Sir.—For two years past I have suffered from several serious difficulties, such as enlargement and dropse of the heart, Indigestion causing flatulence, burning and acidity, bloating of the stomach, bowels costive, unequal and bad circulation of the blood. The least exercise caused palpitation of the blood. The least exercise caused palpitation of the beart, rush of blood to the head and the face would be covered with red bloatenes. My kilneys were diseased, from which I suffered much. I also had a sew-re cough accompanied with whereing and ruttling in the langs and sensations of oppression about the heart and lungs, as though water had celected there. I might enumerate many other symtoms from which I suffered, but the above will give a general idea of my case. I had taden much medicine and tried several doctors without much benefit and was told that my case was incurable disease of the heart. I have now taken your remedies about 6 months, with a gradual and decided improvement from the first and now feel quite well and more like living again. Dector you have my best wishes and my recommend to others.

Yours Respectfully.
